

Get to Know Your Neighbors

A New Building Community Website

Hello Everyone,

I am setting up a private website just for residents of our building where anyone who wishes can share a short video (about 5 minutes or less) introducing themselves to their neighbors. This is completely optional, free to use, and meant simply as a friendly way for us to get to know one another a little better.

What Can You Share?

In your short video, you may talk about anything you like, such as:

- Where you're from
- Your interests or hobbies
- Pets
- Favorite activities
- Volunteer work
- Travel stories
- Or anything you'd like neighbors to know about you

There is no script and no pressure — just be yourself.

Privacy & Safety

- The website will be private and password-protected
- Only residents will have access
- Videos will not be public and will not appear on Google
- First names only (unless you prefer otherwise)
- All videos will be reviewed before posting to keep things respectful

I will maintain the site and cover all costs.

How to Participate

- You can record a video easily using your phone
- Videos should be 5 minutes or less
- If you'd like help recording or uploading, I'm happy to assist

You may also choose not to participate — that's perfectly fine.

Why This?

Many of us see each other every day but don't really know each other.

This is simply a way to build a stronger sense of community and connection in our building.
